A publically-accessible website for the BIANCHO Project has been established to promote and attract attention and is available at: <http://www.biancho.org>

This website is not used for internal project collaboration but is intended primarily to highlight the aims and accomplishments of the BIANCHO team.

The website consists of the following parts: 1) Project Overview; 2) Partners; 3) Technology; 4) Publications; 5) Press Release; and 6) Workshops. The first part, Project Overview contains the basic description of the project including the project's aims and objectives. The second part, Partners, describes the partner profiles, includes hyperlinks to the partner websites, and also gives an overview of the BIANCHO consortium. The third part, Technology, includes a description of the main concepts and the technology that is used in the BIANCHO Project. The fourth part, Publications contains an updated list of partner publications. The fifth part, Press Release contains links to any press releases that are relevant to the project. Finally the sixth part, Workshops contains information on the Materials World international bismide workshops, in which University of Surrey and University of Marburg are partners. All website hyperlinks and edited text will be updated at a minimum bi-weekly.

Future Work: major changes to the website as suggested by the BIANCHO partners will be solicited and considered approximately every six months.
